

Our Mission to Native Americans–American Indian Christian Mission

Located near Show Low, Arizona, American Indian Christian Mission is both a day school and a weekday boarding school for the Apache and Navaho children that attend. Serving grades K through 10, it is AICM's goal to be a fully accredited K-12 school by 2009. Besides offering a quality Christian education to Native American youth, AICM's mission is to develop and equip Native Americans for Christian leadership and ministry service. In doing so, AICM reaches Native American communities with a culturally relevant message of Jesus Christ. Learn more about AICM at their website:
